Andover vs. Exeter.

In looking over the scores made by Andover and Exeter against the same teams, we can, in a way, compare the two elevens. The scores are:

ANDOVER.

Sept. 24.—Andover 22; Boston Latin School 0.

Oct. 8.—Andover 0, Tufts 24.

Oct. 22.—Andover 0; Bowdoin 36.

Oct. 29.—Andover 0, B. A. A. 34.

EXETER.

Oct. 1.—Exeter 4, Bowdoin 26.

Oct. 8.—Exeter 0, B. A. A. 16.

Oct. 12.—Exeter 0, Tufts 36.

Oct. 20.—Exeter 0, Boston Latin School 30.

In eleven games we have scored 66 points to our opponents' 188, and Exeter in ten games stands 40 against 258.

But turn these figures as we may, they furnish little upon which to form conclusions. The scores are certainly in Exeter's favor, but the games were not played near enough together to show the relative strengths of the two teams.

The game to-day will be the fourteenth in the series of foot-ball contests, of which Andover has won ten.

The teams will line up as follows:

ANDOVER.		EXETER.
Chadwell,	} Rushers	Hollister,	} Quimby.
Murphy,		Holmes,
Murray,		Smith,
Holt,		Twombly,
Sturgis,	} Quarter-backs	Richards,	} Seymour,

The Hotchkiss School.

The new preparatory school at Lakeville, Conn., named the "Hotchkiss School," after its founder, Mrs. Maria H. Hotchkiss, of Salisbury, Conn., was opened Wednesday, Oct. 19, under the most flourishing conditions.

Though applications for admittance were received from over 100, only 50 were received, as that is the limit of the present capacity of the school, except for day scholars, of whom there are quite a number in attendance.

The school is a preparatory school, interpreted strictly, receiving only students who intend to fit themselves for college, either academic or scientific. The standard of admission is very high, and a written examination, including a certain amount of Latin, is required.

The courses of instruction, also, are to be on a high standard, and a feature is that a reading knowledge of both French and German will be a requirement for graduation. Certain conditions in the internal management of the school will be made prominent by its officers, as the unity of the school life, the intimate contact of students with masters in social as well as other relations, and the limitations as to numbers, whereby the heads of the several departments of instruction will be able to address themselves directly and constantly to the needs and progress of each individual. Systematic class exercises in the gymnasium under the supervision of a master will be regularly required. The annual charges are $600. The school is situated on a broad slope overlooking Lake Wonouscopomoe, and commanding a beautiful view of the surrounding country. The lake furnishes extraordinary facilities for boating, having a straightaway course of a mile and a quarter in length.

The school domain consists of seventy-five acres, thus affording ground for all kind of athletic sports. The buildings have a frontage of 325 feet and are connected by a corridor which runs their entire length. They include a chapel, school-study, class-rooms, reading-room and library, dormitory, in which each student has a separate room,—refectory, masters' rooms, offices, gymnasium, with swimming, pool, and bath rooms.

They are lighted by electricity, and are abundantly supplied with pure water. In the general arrangement and construction every effort has been made to secure to both teachers and students the greatest possible degree of health, comfort and convenience. As the school site is on high ground, perfect drainage has been secured.

The principal of the school is Prof. Edward G. Coy, and the associate-principal Prof. Comstock, both formerly of Phillips Academy, Andover, and widely known through their reputation as scholars and instructors. In short, the school is a model one in every way, and its equipments, instruction, location and general advantages, are sure to make it famous as a preparatory school.—Ex.

University Extension.

The committee of the American Society for the extension of University teaching has fixed the meeting of the second national conference on University extension for Thursday and Friday, December 29 and 30, in Philadelphia. The object of the conference is to discuss the means of making the movement more general and efficient. Delegates will be present from the active centers of the work in the United States, including the leading colleges and universities: President Andrews, of Brown; Prof. Albert S. Cook, of Yale, president of the Connecticut branch of the American society; Mr. Melvin Dewey, director of the New York University extension; President Thwing, of Western Reserve; President Coulter of Indiana; President Harper, of Chicago; President Adams, of Wisconsin; and Provost Pepper, of the University of Pennsylvania, are among the most prominent representatives who will be present.

Base-Ball Pentagon.

A man in Rolla, Mo., has conceived a scheme which, he believes, will re-awaken popular interest in base-ball. According to his plan there would be four bases in the field instead of three. A diagram which he presents provides for base lines about ten feet farther out than the present ones, thus making a larger area for fair balls. The second base is nearer to the first than at present. The extra base is placed between second and the point which is now occupied by the third base, and could be covered by short-stop.

M. A. C. Games.

The in-door games of the Manhattan Athletic Club, to take place at Madison Square Garden on Saturday, Nov. 26th, promise to be very interesting. The programme is as follows: 70 yards dash, handicap; 175-yards dash, handicap; 350-yards run, novice; 600-yards run, handicap; high jump, handicap; one-mile run, handicap; 175-yards hurdle race, 3 ft., 6 in. handicap; one-mile walk, novice, one-half-mile bicycle, novice; one-mile bicycle, handicap, two-mile bicycle.

Entries will close Friday, Nov. 18th, with Capt. Eugene Van Schaick, Madison avenue and Forty-fifth Street, New York City. Entrance fee, fifty cents for each event. Gold and silver watches and silver medals will be given to first, second and third respectively, in each event.—Ex.

Yale Field Corporation.

In order that an idea of the actual cost of college athletics may be had we print the following statement of the treasurer of the Yale Field Corporation for the year, ending August 31, 1892:

RECEIPT.
Cash balance forward	$4,226 84

Insurance,	262 20
Balance Cash on hand,	718 20
Total	$9,336 77

There is at present a debt of $8,000 on the field, the balance of a loan from the college. Considerable expense was incurred at first, including the cost of the field, and the levelling required. The purpose of the Corporation is to provide a field for athletic sports for the University, and when the debt is paid off and the exciting circumstances make it advisable, the field will be turned over to the University to be held in trust for the purpose for which it was started. In 1884 the debt amounted to $20,000, but this is being steadily reduced.—Yale News.

D. K. E. At Yale

When a student at Yale last spring received injuries at a secret society initiation which resulted in death, the two leading Junior societies agreed that in the future the initiations should merely consist of the administration of the fraternity oath and that blind-folding and other rough play should be abolished. It has lately come to the notice of the faculty that the old harsh customs and practices have been renewed, and as a result the college authorities have dropped on the society men with considerable force. The members of D. K. E. fraternity have been given three alternatives—either that it be converted into an open club, abolished, or that a member of the faculty be allowed to attend every meeting, and that the meetings shall end at mid-night.—Ex.

The Andover Press.

The day for the annual foot-ball contest with our honored rivals is at hand. The game promises to be the most exciting and interesting in the history of these struggles. As far as we have been able to judge the teams are about evenly matched with a possible advantage in favor of our opponents. The eleven have won and lost about the same number of games, while their scores were made under conditions not favorable for very accurate comparison. Both schools expect victory and there are reasonable grounds for their hopes.

The captains of the two teams have met before and each one has a record to be proud of. Both have made their teams from raw material, but Andover has had to contend with an adverse fate all but insuperable at times. We send our team forth, however, confident that they will play the best game and all the game they know and that they will play it till time is called and if victory should depart from us it will be only when wrested by the hand of worthy foe.

The schools play a great part in the issue of to-day aside from their teams. In the last few years a kindly feeling of rivalry has grown up between the schools. To-day we are the hosts and everything we do toward increasing the existing good-will adds so much toward giving these contests the right place in our school life. Let us have our visitors leave, whether as victors or vanquished, with the feeling that they had a most cordial reception.

Nothing will be more noticed by old Andover men than our cheering, and nothing will be more efficient in aiding the team than loud cheers. Our opponents have no mean record in this particular. Now we outnumber them two to one and our cheering should hold the same ratio. If our men need anything but shouts of encouragement, the school will be responsible.

We expect constant strong work of the team, they expect hearty continued support from us. Let every P. A. man be where his cheers will be most effective and thus we shall, if possible, keep victory on our side.

The inefficiency of our reading room both in size and equipment for our needs grows more apparent. Of course we ought to have a better one. But that like many another need will probably wait long for its fulfillment.

We must get along as well as we can with what we have. Our meagre opportunities may however be supplemented in part by those offered by the other reading rooms in town and so we call the attention of the students to the hours as printed elsewhere.

Chautauqua Lecturers.

Mr. George E. Vincent, vice principal of the Chautauqua system, has just returned from England, where he has been securing attractions for the next season of Chautauqua. His mission took him to some of the best known literary men of the day, and it is expected that among next year's lecturers before the Chautauqua will be Professor Henry Drummond, who was in this country four years ago, and James Matther Barrie, the author of "The Little Minister," "Auld Licht Idyles" and "Window in Thrums."

FOOT-BALL EXTRA.

Nov. 12, 1892.

Phillips Andover Foot-Ball Team, 1892.

P.A. TEAM 1892.

CAPT. W. B. HOPKINS.

Capt. Hopkins has had perhaps a larger foot-ball experience than any other preparatory school player in the country, and for the last two years has made an almost ideal captain. Before entering Phillips he played under association rules at Palmyra, N. Y., with a team which held the interscholastic championship of Western New York for six years. Hopkins did not try for the eleven in his first year, but played on the Latin Commons, team-making every touchdown for them. He played left half on the victorious team of '90 and was made captain for '91. The score of 26 to 10 against one of Exeter's strongest elevens shows how well he acquitted himself in that capacity. This season, though he was badly injured early in October, he has kept a close oversight of the men and has played a good game himself. Capt. Hopkins weighs 155 lbs.

CHARLES E. MILLARD.

Comes from Tarrytown, N. Y., and is eighteen years old. Since entering the Academy in '88, he has played very good foot-ball on the Commons teams, but did not try for the first eleven until last year, when he was sub half back. This season of his hard work he made regular half and has been putting up a remarkably good game. He has been on the ball nine for three years, and represented Andover in doubles against Exeter at the tennis tournament this fall. He weighs 155 pounds.

HARRY JENNINGS

Learned foot-ball at Chester, Pa., and, on entering the Academy in '90, was substitute on the first team. For the past two seasons he has played at quarter-back and has added much strength to the team by his presence. In the game with Exeter last fall he made the first touchdown and repeatedly prevented Exeter from gaining by his tackling. He is 21 years of age, comes from Harrisburg, Penn., and weighs 162 pounds.

LEWIS HINKEY, V

Brother of Yale's noted end rusher, has played on the second eleven for the last three years, and had little difficulty in making end on the first team this season. He is light, but plays a very quick game. His home is at Tonawanda, N. Y., he is eighteen years old and weighs 138 pounds.

GEO. M. CHADWELL

Is comparatively new at foot-ball, this being his first season; but he is a hard worker and is in the midst of every play that is made. His home is in Stockbridge, Mass., he is 21, and weighs 152 pounds.

FRED T. MURPHY

Has been rightly called the hardest worker on the team. It is his first experience at foot-ball, and considering the fact that he only began to play two weeks ago his work is very creditable. He has played on the ball nine for two years, being captain for '92 and '93. He is 20 years of age, lives in Junction City, Kansas, and weighs 168 pounds.

JAS. O. RODGERS

Tried for the team last year, but was kept off on account of injuries. He is very strong and uses his strength to advantage, playing a very steady game and has not missed a game this season. He comes from Toledo, Ohio, and entered the Academy in the fall of '90. His weight is 176 pounds.

LANG MURRAY

Received his early foot-ball training at the New York Military Academy where he played guard on the team. Last year he was laid up and did not play on the eleven, but this season he made left guard and has filled that position well. His work is steady and he is well acquainted with the game. His weight is 180 pounds.

C. B. STURGES

From Scranton, Pa., also learned the game at Cornwall on the Hudson, and played on the team with Murray. He is strong, works hard and conscientiously and has a good understanding of the duties of his position.

E. G. HOLT

Played centre on the second team last year and was quite a match for Perkins and is a good snap back. He is 18 years old, comes from Lawrence, Mass., and weighs 190.

HAROLD W. LETTON

Played foot-ball for the first time last fall when his full back work on the Salem Street team attracted attention. He is the best punter on the team and gives promise of making a fine man for next year. He is 18 years old, lives in Kenwood, Ill., and weighs 158 pounds.

Andover Yields!

EXETER WINS THE FIFTH TIME IN A SERIES OF FOURTEEN GAMES.

Score, 28-18.

The day of the annual contest between the foot-ball representatives of Andover and Exeter was cold and dreary but an ideal one for foot-ball playing if not for witnessing a game. About 4000 enthusiasts lined around our campus and shivered while alternately the heaps of blue and the piles of red moved slowly down the field. Of course Andover was confident of victory, but there was much conjecture as to the result although the Exeter men looked heavier than her opponents.

At just 2.55 Andover started the excitement by a V which made ten yards. The ball was immediately lost on 4 downs. Forthwith Exeter began her style of play which was to accomplish their object if possible, namely, plugging the centre. Pillsbury makes 4 yards. Jennings tackles Seymour behind line, but Holmes, not disconcerted, makes 10 yards around the end. After Thomas makes 8 more through the centre; Andover takes ball on 4 downs.

After Hopkins and Millard make 3 and 2 yards respectively, Exeter receives ball on 4 downs.

Pillsbury makes 4 yards, but Andover claims off side and starts to push the ball down the field. Hopkins, Jennings and Hinkey make big gains, Millard fumbles but Chadwell falls on to it at the 30 yard line. Murphy, then rushing, fumbles, and Pillsbury falls on the ball. Seymour runs around the end for 10 yards, and immediately Pillsbury goes through the centre, and running free goes toward Andover's goal. Letton chases and catches him on the 20 yard line. Andover by an offside play again is on the aggressive, and Letton punts about 35 yards. Paige broke through and tackled Pillsbury, and Thomas advances by good gains. Seymour tries to kick, but being almost tackled he dodges, and runs over 35 yards.

The ball is Exeter's on the 25 yard line and she crosses the touch line by terrible pounding at Andover centre by Pillsbury, Thomas, Connor, and Holmes. Thomas kicks the goal. Score 6-0, twenty-five minutes after the start.

Andover makes 7 yards on the V. Andover starts off for a sure touchdown for Hopkins. Letton and Millard make great gains through the centre and around the end, Hopkins making a run of 25 yards, but Exeter braces and gets the ball on 4 downs and slowly but surely pushes it down toward Andover's goal.

They change ball several times but Exeter seems to be at the lead nearly every time. Pillsbury, Thomas, and Connors seem to be doing all the work, and as their heads dive into their opponents, useless would be the thought of stopping them short. Time was called with the ball on the 20-yard line, with the Exeter enthusiasm at explosive heat.

The second half opened with Andover still having hopes, but with Exeter having the ball. Thomas by the V travels 12 yards and then follows it with a 3 yards move. Seymour makes 5 yards which is followed by small gains of the backs, the distance being covered by a common V which flies straight through the center rush.

Down, down the field towards Andover's goal travels that ball, the men holding it and plunging with irresistible force directly into the bodies of their poor opponents.

Chadwell does some fine tackling but all in vain, for Seymour is pushed through the tackle for 12 yards, scoring the second touchdown for Exeter in nine minutes and putting the red ahead for 10 points in all as Thomas misses a very easy goal.

Andover's enthusiasm is at fever heat as they come back to the centre of the field and start for the goal. Rush after rush, run after run soon shows what Andover's terrible "stick" is going to count for. In five minutes a touchdown is scored and a goal is kicked by the following: Hopkins jumps forward for 12 yards with the V; Rogers follows it with 4, and Millard is so delighted that he makes 3 more. Again the redoubtable "Hoppy" flies around the end and does not stop until the 20-yard is covered. Every man makes his distance and at last Letton plunges through for two yards, which makes Andover's score 4-10. Hopkins kicks the goal and all Andover is happy for the score is only 10-6 in Exeter's favor.

They go again to the centre amidst the wildest enthusiasm and cheers on Andover's part. The cheering stood again on Exeter's side when the play begins for them. Terrible V makes 12 yards before Thomas is tackled. Seymour rushes 1 yard and Pillsbury goes forward for 5 yards. Again, Seymour is called for and he travels 4 yards.

Once more Seymour is called, and this time rushes 5 yards. Pillsbury follows it with 1 yard and Connor paces 4 more through the centre. Pillsbury not being satisfied adds 8 yards to his already full record. That simple V probes its way through the centre again and again, and although no brilliant plays are made the pigskin is carried over by Pillsbury, and Thomas kicks the goal. The score is now Exeter 16 Andover 6.

As the ball is returned to the centre of the field, Exeter's victory is almost conceded by Hopkins who makes 8 yards by the aid of the V. Letton follows it with 3, but then Andover stops for 4 downs is called by the stentorian voice of the referee, and Seymour keeps at the centre thumping, and covers 2 yards; Pillsbury again covers 5 yards and Thomas strengthens his title of a rusher by coming a necessary 2 yards through the right guard.

Like a thunderbolt just as Andover hopes for much, Pillsbury breaks away again, and fairly flies down the field, and after sprinting 50 yards touches the ball behind the line, and as Thomas kicks the goal the score is now Andover 12, Exeter 22. Again as the ball is in the V Hopkins is called on to try and cover 8 yards. Letton follows with 2 and Millard also rushes with the result of 3 more. Our redoubtable captain flies around the

The game is over. We shall seldom see its equal again. It was a great game: a game such as it is an unqualified honor to win and no disgrace to lose. Such an exhibition of courage and endurance makes us proud of our school and of our youth. We congratulate the victors most heartily; we have nothing but praise for the vanquished.

From the start both sides played with grim determination. All the traditions of his school urged each player to heroic exertions. All the martial spirit of both schools was impersonated in their players and they struggled with unfaltering resolve. To our men great praise is due for the grit with which they played a losing game, against odds of size and weight, uncheered by the visions of victory which made their opponents unconquerable. Though the result is not what we wished, our confidence in our athletes and our school is not a whit diminished. Defeat sometimes gives an impetus toward greater success. Our defeat in foot-ball five years ago was the spur needed to rouse the dormant "Andover" spirit that lead us on to greater victory than ever.

This is the result that we predict from to-day's defeat. It will nerve us to exertions before which no opposition can stand and will be the precursor of many victories in the future.

 trick of putting the back in the position to kick. Letton follows with a gain of 5 yards through the centre, Millard with one of three and Letton with seven more.

Howkins makes Andover's second touchdown and then kicks the goal, adding 6 points to the score. Andover
 12, Exeter 22.

Exeter's V covers 20 yards, Seymour being savagely tackled by Jennings. At this juncture Connor receives a severe injury but continues play by making a hole for Seymour to go 4 yards.

To the usual place the ball comes and Andover shows her admirable offensive work by piling down the field in about 4 minutes. Millard makes the longest run of about 35 yards and short gains through the centre sends Hopkins over for a touchdown and kicking a goal, he makes the score 28-18, and thus it remains.

The Exeter Team.

Great was the surprise when the announcement was made that our opponent's team was lighter than our own, for our team is lighter by an average of four pounds than the team which won for us last year. Moreover, the weight this year is very unevenly distributed. The centre, Twombly, weighs 219 pounds, while the quarterback, Quimby, weighs only 124. Capt.

 Thomas is undoubtedly the star player of his team, though, Connor, the wiry right tackle, has attracted much attention by his brilliant work. Exeter's team has won an equal number of games this season with Andover, and has suffered one less defeat, prior to to-day's game. Capt. Thomas is the only man who has ever played against Andover before. He weighs 148 pounds.

Quimby has had some experience in foot-ball. He captained the team at Harvard School, New York City, last year. Seymour, half-back, weight 130, played foot-ball at the Friends' School, Providence, R.I., before entering Exeter. The full-back weighs 139. His name is Pillsbury. He has not played much foot-ball till this year. Connor weighs 164. The left tackle, Holmes, got his first experience in the game at Exeter. He weighs 165. Barton, weight 150, plays right end. Left end is watched by Hollister, who weighs 155 pounds. Richards, weight 173, plays right guard. He is a new man at the game. The left guard, Smith, weighs 171. He never played until this fall.

PHILLIPIANA.

Andover vs. Exeter at 2.30 P.M., today, at Andover.

Yale has students from fifteen foreign countries.

Five presidents of Hamilton College have been Yale graduates.

Rutgers is to have a new gymnasium costing $20,000.

William Astor has promised $1,000, 000 to found a negro university in Oklahoma.

Chicago University has received gifts in money and property which represent over $2,000,000.

The U. of M. foot-ball team has stopped playing, owing to injuries to its men.

The Andover men at Yale this year will substitute a reception for the annual banquet.

Harvard is to build a boat-house, costing $30,000, on the new athletic grounds next year.

The University of Pennsylvania has the heaviest rush line in the country.
It averages 190 pounds.

Cornell is considering the plan of extending the law course from two to three years.

The average weight of the Harvard rush-line is 173.8 pounds; that of the backs, 162.7, and of the whole team, 168.4.

The swimming tank in the new gymnasium at Yale has been opened to bathers. The depth of the tank varies from 4 1-2 to 7 feet.

Salt Lake City is to have a Presbyterian College.

A round trip to the World's Fair has been offered to the member of the Univ. of Penn. eleven scoring the most points against opponents this season.

The largest foot-ball scores on record were made: by Harvard against Exeter in 1886, 123-0; by Yale against Wesleyan in 1886, 136-0; and by Princeton against Lafayette in 1884, 140-0.

A group of memorial windows has been placed in the Crombie St. Church in Salem, Mass., one of them in memory of Greenough Thayer, P.A.
'81, who lost his life at Ogunquit Beach
the vacation following his second year
at Harvard College.

Edmund Tucker Eastman, M.D., a graduate of Phillips in 1842, Harvard '46, died in Boston Nov. 7. He had held many municipal offices, and been in the Massachusetts legislature two terms. He was too ill last summer to attend the fiftieth anniversary of his graduation at Andover, but sent loyal messages to his class-mates at their reunion. Eight of a class of seventeen survive.

Thomas Blagden of New York, P.A.
'56, died at his residence there Nov. 5.
He was the son of Dr. Blagden, pastor for many years of the Old South Church in Boston, and descendant of the Phillips family, a kinsman of Oliver Wendell Holmes and the Walleys. He served in the navy in the war of '61.
A class-mate and college chum speaks of him in the Herald as "one of the kindest, gentlest, most brave and genial spirits on the earth."

Editors of the Phillipian:

Where is the base-ball used in last year's Exeter Game? It seems a pity not to keep complete the trophies of the School. There must have been at least half a dozen balls used during the game and surely one ought to go in the trophic case. FOOT-BALL
